The Qantas Distribution Platform

The Qantas Distribution Platform is a technology platform that modernises airline retailing, booking and servicing capabilities, creating a better experience, new opportunities for travel agents and delivers a more personalised and seamless experience for our customers.

Qantas developed the Qantas Distribution Platform, using International Air Transport Association (IATA) New Distribution Capability (NDC) standards, to provide you with access to a range of content and offers, making it easier for you to shop, book and service Qantas flights.

Some benefits of the Qantas Distribution Platform

Access to a range of new special price, loyalty and ancillary offers, including access to a lower price point every time you shop via the Qantas Distribution Platform*

Improved features to support and assist with booking requirements. This may include more information on fare rules, as well as marketing information indicating when an 'offer' is available for the traveller, when they shop using their Qantas Frequent Flyer number.

Richer information available at the time of shopping, providing visibility on the full value of the Qantas offer. This may include information on Frequent Flyer points earned, additional baggage allowances and visual information on what the traveller can expect at the airport and whilst on-board.

Enhanced servicing functionality, providing travel arrangers with a more efficient end to end servicing experience, enabling automated post-booking functionalities, to save you and your corporate travellers even more time.

Become part of the Qantas Distribution Platform journey

To access an all-in-one, personalised and seamless booking experience for your business, please reach out to your Qantas Account Manager or Travel Management Company for more information on how your business can receive the benefits and content available via the Qantas Distribution Platform.

*When compared with what is available in other indirect booking systems not accessing Qantas Distribution Platform content. Lower pricing via the Qantas Distribution Platform will be made available on Australian domestic fares from 29 November 2022.
