

You must be a Qantas Frequent Flyer to earn and use Qantas Points. A joining fee may apply. Membership and points are subject to the Qantas Frequent Flyer program Terms and Conditions.

* To be eligible for Green tier status, Qantas Frequent Flyer members must complete one activity in five out of six Green tier categories in a Membership Year. Members must be residing in Australia with an Australian residential address in their profile. Members must be logged in to their Qantas Frequent Flyer account when completing the relevant activity (for example, booking an eco-accredited hotel) and residing in Australia with an Australian residential address in their profile.

In order to be recognised for the Green tier activity, Qantas Frequent Flyer members must tick 'Fly Carbon Neutral' on eligible flights during the booking process or in My Account. Carbon offset will be recognised as a Green tier activity seven days after purchase.

Qantas Frequent Flyer members must stay at chosen hotels in order for the activity to be eligible towards achieving Green tier status. Your Qantas Frequent Flyer number must be added to your booking for the hotel stay to count towards your Green tier activity. View the full list of eco-accredited properties recognised by the Qantas Green tier program. Properties correct as at 14 February 2022. Your stay will be recognised as a Green tier activity four days after check-out. A property will be considered eligible within the Qantas Green Tier program if they meet the required sustainability performance criteria. Hotel sustainability performance was assessed based on public information and reports disclosed by listed properties detailing environmental, social and governance issues. Considerations were given to properties with sustainability reporting and strategies aligned with the Global Reporting Initiative, the Sustainability Accounting Standards Board, the Taskforce on Climate-related Financial Disclosures or other industry recognised Sustainability reporting standards or initiatives. Finally consideration was also given to hotels with recognised performance in sustainability through third party certifications or awards including B Corp, Climate Active, Green Star rating or eligible international certification standards. Any complaints, feedback or recommendations regarding sustainability initiatives and activities will be passed directly to relevant properties requesting a written response. Only Australian domestic properties are eligible.

Eligible wine purchases for Green tier activity include any Eco-case of 6 or 12 bottles from Qantas Wine. These cases are identified by a green leaf icon. Qantas Wine has partnered with Sustainable Winegrowing Australia to showcase sustainably certified wineries. Wines produced from these wineries are eligible purchases for Green tier activity. Members of Sustainable Winegrowing Australia must annually report the Sustainable Winegrowing Australia business metrics and complete the self-assessment workbook. Certified members of Sustainable Winegrowing Australia choose to be certified by undergoing an independent third-party audit against the approved certification standards for viticulture and wineries (PDF). Your sustainable wine purchase will be recognised as a Green tier activity three days after purchase. To purchase from Qantas Wine, you must be a Qantas Frequent Flyer member, 18 years of age and over and have an Australian delivery address. If you return an Eco-friendly case of six or 12 bottles your bonus points will be removed from your account. Liquor Act 2007: No alcohol can be sold or supplied to anyone under 18. Members will earn 10 Qantas Points per A$1 spent on carbon offsetting at qantas.com. The number of points earned will be based on the dollar amount quoted at the time of booking, regardless of whether payment for carbon offset is made using money or using Qantas Points. The points awarded will be rounded up to the nearest point. Qantas Points can be split between two or more members within the same booking, as long as each member provides their Qantas Frequent Flyer membership number when booking. Any payment made for carbon offset is non-refundable even when bookings are changed or cancelled.

Where a member provides both the ABN associated with their Qantas Business Rewards account and Qantas Frequent Flyer membership number at the time of booking, the points will be awarded to the business' Qantas Business Rewards account.
